

Water is perhaps the most valuable material of all for life that makes Earth the only planet blessed with abundance of water, so special.

That is why it is important that we all find ways to conserve water every day and in every way. Children play an important role in making sure that every drop counts and there are things you can do to help your school, family and community to save water. If everyone saves a little, we can save a lot.

United Nations has declared 2013 as the United Nations International Year of Water Cooperation.

The objective of this International Year is to raise awareness, both on the potential for increased cooperation, and on the challenges facing water management in light of the increase in demand for water access, allocation and services.

You, as torchbearers of DAV Institutions can initiate certain activities and competitions in your schools to spread awareness about the need to conserve and preserve water.

Various wings of DAV are organising an all India Launch of the 'Project Boond' Programme on 19th January 2013.

In Delhi, this programme is being launched by 'Arya Pradeshik Pratinidhi Upsabha, Delhi' and 'Rashtriya Arya Yuva Samaj, Delhi' on 19 January 2013.

All DAV Schools of Delhi shall initiate this programme from DAV CMC Head office and from their schools. The programme shall continue in all DAV Schools in the form of various activities, rallies, human chains, inter-school competitions etc throughout the year 2013.
